AMERICAN REPUBLICS.

JUDGE JEHU BAKER GETTING POSTED ON OUR RELATIONS WITH THEM.

A Subject That Has Steadily Grown In Importance for the Past Few Years. The Interstate Commerce Commissioners—Internal Revenue Collections.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—When the Fifty-third congress assembles it will be found to embrace at least one member who will be an authority on the subject of the relations between this government and the other American republics. That is a subject which has been steadily growing in importance.

No less than three propositions were pending in the last congress for a formal gathering of the representatives of the North Central and South American republics at Washington to consider those relations and to outline a policy of mutual assistance and benefit. Nothing came of any of these propositions, but the interest manifested in them showed that the suggestion was a timely one and likely to lead to something definite in the next congress.

One thing has been abundantly demonstrated, and that is, no masterly statesmanship may be looked for in the state department under the present administration. Such being the case, congress must make its way in the new field. The more well-digested information the legislative branch found itself in possession of at the coming session, the better the prospect for some efficient intelligent action in the direction of closer and better relations between the American republics.

The member who is likely to be the conspicuous authority in these matters is Judge Jehu Baker, the successor of Col William R. Morrison. Six years' diplomatic service as minister to Venezuela furnished the foundation on which Judge Baker is now building. He is making an exhaustive study of treaties and diplomatic correspondence in the official files of the state department, where he has been an almost daily visitor since the adjournment of congress.

The New Commissioners.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The president has signed the commissions of the newly appointed interstate commerce commissioners, but they will be held at the White House and delivered to the commissioners upon their arrival. Information was received that Judge Cooley cannot reach Washington until the close of next week, and it was decided to make no effort to get the commission together before that time, as other members have also their private affairs to attend to. It may be that none of the commissioners will arrive until the middle of next week. It is understood, however, that each of them will give as much attention as possible to the study of the law in the meantime, so that upon coming together no time may be lost. It is hoped that the secretary of the interior may be able to provide at least temporary quarters before the close of next week. When the commission assembles its first action will be to organize, and then it will proceed as promptly as possible to announce its construction of the principal sections of the bill, the meaning of which is disputed.

Consul General Phelan.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Hon. M. H. Phelan, of St. Louis, consul general to Halifax, is here with his family, on the way back to Nova Scotia. He spent some time at the state department, and had an agreeable interview with the president. Mr. Phelan stands in favor with this administration to his course during the fisheries trouble. At the cases against American vessels which he took up and appealed, he won, with a single exception. It is known to a few here that the president and secretary of state were seriously considering Mr. Phelan's name for minister to Mexico recently, when it was doubtful if Mr. Manning's nomination would go through the senate.

Internal Revenue Collections.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The collections of internal revenue during the first eight months of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1887, were $917,697 less than the collections during the corresponding period of the last fiscal year. There was a decrease of $2,753,594 in the receipts from spirits; an increase of $349,270 on tobacco; an increase of $1,353,783 on fermented liquors; an increase of $14,005 on miscellaneous and a decrease of $54,754 on penalties. The receipts for February, 1887, were $20,063 less than the receipts for the same month of 1886.

Presidential Appointments.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The president has made the following appointments: H. M. Sowell, of Maine, to be consul general at Apia, Samoa Island, and N. J. George, of Tennessee, to be consul at Charlottetown, P. E. I.

The Ice Gorge Unbroken.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 25.—All attempts to break the Sibley Island gorge with dynamite are unavailing. A man was seen last evening riding down the river on a cake of ice, frantically calling for help, but it was impossible to assist. Twelve families near Sibley Island had a most thrilling experience. After being on the roofs of the houses a thin crust formed over the river, and on this they walked to the shore, some two miles, breaking through several times. Fort Lincoln army officers here are still of the opinion that the people opposite the post, on the lowlands south of the city, perished in the flood. This belief is becoming prevalent, and as the reports come in from remote river districts the story of suffering and loss of life is intensified.

Anarchist Jury's Board Still Unpaid.

CHICAGO, March 25.—Cook county has not yet paid the bill for the board and lodging of the jury that convicted the condemned Anarchists, and according to present appearances it will be a long day before the provender which they consumed will have been settled for. Proprietor Manning, of the Rovers house, has recovered a verdict of $2,300 against the county for the entertainment of the twelve good men and true, but County Attorney Bliss this morning filed an appeal against the judgment, and the case will be tried on its merits some time next month.

New York, March 25.—Benjamin W. Wandell, formerly police justice in this city, died last night. He was an active politician.

INDICTMENT DELAYED.

Hints of Further Crookedness in Chicago's Boodle Business.

CHICAGO, March 25.—The Daily News this morning says: "The grand jury has found something under thirty true bills against the county bootleggers," said a gentleman on the inside. "So long as they are not presented to court, the jury, of course, has the power to change its mind. It is evident that there is some delay in the proceedings, but the jury is unanimous in its opinion. I know this to be true."

"The official corruption was bargained enough for the jury to make its presentments almost at the very outset of this investigation. Some of the merchants and contractors who have been subjected to the sharp edge of the law before this body of twenty three stanch citizens, have exhibited themselves in a most pitiable light. While these men have confessed their guilt, it is probable that in consideration of their services, some of them will escape punishment, excepting, perhaps, the disgrace attaching to an indictment. The authorities are after the bootleggers. The evidence has been overwhelming against the bootleggers of high and low degree."

"The indictments are likely to be turned into court any time. Judge Anthony has finished the work on his docket, but he stands ready to open court and receive the presentments. I hardly think they will all come in a bunch. The jury is not through with this interesting investigation, and there is no estimating how many counts will be found. The indictments and arrests that followed last week were hastened by the fact that there were reasons for believing certain men were preparing to 'skip.'"

The Fair-Crittenden Murder Recalled.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—The murder of A. P. Crittenden by Laura D. Fair was recalled to-day by the woman's suit against Dr. Benjamin F. Taylor for $1,000, which she claims she gave him to pay certain debts, while awaiting trial fifteen years ago. She brings suit under name of Laura A. Snyder. The Fair-Crittenden murder case is one of the celebrated cases of California. Mrs. Fair was the mistress of A. P. Crittenden, a leading lawyer. He made arrangements to bring out his family from the east. Mrs. Fair threatened that if he deserted her for his wife she would kill him. She shot him dead in the presence of his wife and children on the Oakland ferryboat, in August 1870. On her second trial the jury acquitted her. She now keeps a lodging house in this city, and retains few traces of her former beauty.

Titus Escapes the Noose.

TRENTON, March 25.—The sentence of Janitor Titus, who killed Tillis Smith in Hackensack, has been commuted by the court of pardons to imprisonment for life. The members of the court spent two and a half hours in discussing the case. They would reveal nothing concerning their deliberations. It is not known, however, that they were practically unanimous. Judgment from the brief presented by ex-Judge Shipman, Titus' counsel, it is fair to infer that the court took into consideration the fact that although the killing occurred in the commission of crime, it was possibly, in a certain sense, accidental. Titus is to be brought to the state prison here on Saturday or Monday next.

Hebrew Club in Politics.

CHICAGO, March 25.—The Hebrew Political club, reference to the organization of which was recently made in these dispatches, has adopted a novel method of determining who ticket its 500 members shall support in the coming municipal election. It has invited the principal speakers of the Republican, Democratic and Labor parties to appear before it on different evenings and demonstrate to the club why they think that their particular party is entitled to the support of the Hebrew voters. After all three sides have had a hearing the matter will be put to vote and the party receiving the highest vote will be given the unanimous support of the club at the polls.

Randall All Right.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 25.—The question of wiping out Mr. Randall's congressional district was finally determined negatively yesterday evening. The house committee on congressional appointments has just decided on the bill, which will be supported by the Republicans in both branches of the legislature. It leaves Mr. Randall's district in its present shape. This determination was reached after mature deliberation. It was decided that no legislation could keep Randall out of congress, and that it would be better from a party standpoint to have him represent a Democrat rather than a Republican district.

Selling Manning's New Bank Stock.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The World says that 2,000 shares of stock of Mr. Manning's new bank were recorded as sold yesterday on the Consolidated exchange at 92. When the first rush took place it sold as high as 115. Mr. Canda, who is managing the bank's affairs pro tem, denies that any stock was sold below par.

Clothing Assignment.

ST. LOUIS, March 25.—Several attachments brought against Horwitz & Cohn, clothing, No. 1 South Fourth street, resulted in their making a general assignment this morning for the benefit of their creditors. The stock is valued at $25,000; attachments filed aggregate over $18,000.

Four Stores Destroyed.

NEW ORLEANS, March 25.—Fire last night destroyed four stores on Dryades street. The loss is estimated at $20,000; fully insured. The following were burned out: J. T. McKenna, grocery; Boyland's crockery store; Gimble's shoe store and an adjoining furniture store.

Died of Her Injuries.

FALL RIVER, Mass., March 25.—If more Fitzgibbons, aged eighty, who was brutally assaulted with an ax a week ago, died of her injuries last evening. Thomas Fitzgibbons, her husband, is serving a sentence of one year in the house of correction for assaulting an officer.

Receiver for the American Opera Co.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The Times announces that the American or National Opera company has been placed in the hands of a receiver, M. T. G. Rigney, of this city. The claims so far presented aggregate $110,307, and are for supplies furnished

NOT HIS LAST BIRTHDAY.

EMPEROR WILLIAM TO LIVE SIX YEARS LONGER.

At Least That's What the Fortune Tellers Say—Hundreds of Centenarians in Prussia—England Also Knows What Naval Extravagance Is—Foreign Findings.

LONDON, March 25.—A number of anecdotes are related concerning Emperor William's long life and possible number of years still left to him. One, illustrating popular superstition, is worth repeating. It is to the effect that at the time of the Furstentag at Frankfurt, in 1863, King William, one day walking in the neighborhood of Baden Baden, accompanied by Herr Von Bismarck and a number of ladies and gentlemen, passed a gypsy hut. One of the ladies exclaimed: "That is where the famous gypsy girl Preciosa told her fortune."

The party, who were in walking dress, entered the hut and had their fortunes told in succession, the king, whose identity had been concealed, coming last. Preciosa held his hand a long while in silence, and then said: "I see a great crown, great victories and great age. You will live ninety-six years, but your last days will bring many troubles and much sorrow." The king forgot all about the prophecy until 1884, when at a ball at the Russian embassy in Berlin the Hungarian Countess Erdelyi, whose mother was a Tasigane, was presented to him. During the conversation it was incidentally mentioned that the countess possessed the gift of clairvoyance. The emperor held out his hand; the countess, after examining it, gravely said: "Your majesty is destined to live ninety-six years." The emperor, it is added, was much struck by the coincidence.

According to the Vienna Tagblatt physicians of the emperor have declared that he has no organic failing and that there is nothing to prevent him from attaining the age of one hundred provided he takes care of himself. But this is just what he does not do. According to authentic statistics there are at present in the kingdom of Prussia no less than 5,000 persons over ninety years of age. Six hundred of them are ten years older than the emperor. In all parts of Prussia there are plenty of people between ninety and ninety-five. The oldest are to be found in the provinces of Posen, East and West Prussia.

Certain important results are discernible in the picture of social gaiety in Berlin. The emperor's intimate relations with the representatives of Austria and Italy demonstrate the correctness of the report concerning the triple alliance between Germany, Austria and Italy.

The Times in speaking of the new triple alliance briefly sums up the situation thus: "The relations between Austria-Hungary and Russia have certainly been critical of late, and there have not been wanting grounds for apprehending that the peace of Europe might be menaced by the conclusion of an understanding between France and Russia. But the renewal of the alliance between Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy on the basis more or less clearly defined of mutual defense in certain contingencies has indisputably strengthened the securities for the maintenance of peace. It seems to be thought in France that the renewal of this alliance is inimical to France interests. It is difficult to understand how this can be the case unless France really cherishes designs which have been constantly disavowed. No doubt France would be tempted to seek her own advantage if Germany were drawn into war with another power. But it is no disadvantage to France to be screened from this temptation, except on the hypothesis that she really desires war. The case of Russia is somewhat different. It is plain that Russia desires the attainment of certain objects in Bulgaria, and that her interests are directly opposed to those of Austria-Hungary. If the two powers stood alone a collision of their respective interests would constitute a serious menace to the peace of Europe. But Austria-Hungary no longer stands alone. Germany on the one hand and Italy on the other stand beside her. The military strength of Russia, vast as it is, must need recoil before such a combination."

Some of the advocates of the expenditure of millions on the new navy for the United States would find but little comfort in the fact brought out in the debate in the house commons on the admiralty estimates. England has been held up to us a model by advocates of a great navy. In the house debate it was shown that much of the money spent by Great Britain in this direction has been worse than wasted. It is not official admitted that the whole of the belted cruisers draw too much water to render the armor belt of much use. This admission from Lord George Hamilton, speaking on behalf of the navy department, was explained by Mr. Sutherland to mean that these vessels, with 400 tons of coal on board would have only five inches of protected belt above water, while their full complement would make it four inches below. In other words, these vessels which have cost enormous sums of money are of no use whatsoever for the purpose for which they were constructed. The Ajax, which cost £552,000 only a few years ago, is now declared, on the highest authority, to be unfit for sea. When to these gross failures in construction are added the mismanagement which squanders tens of thousands in the improper allotment of contracts and a careless supervision which comes very near to being corruption, one has a picture of the way things are done at the British admiralty. This might be studied with advantage by the American congress.

Returning Home.

BERLIN, March 25.—The visitors to the birthday festivities are returning home in large numbers, but hundreds still remain, and it will be several days before the city resumes its normal condition. The emperor to-day gave an audience to the prince of Wales and the king and queen of Bulgaria. Surprise is expressed that in view of his enfeebled condition he has borne the strain of the week so well.

Bismarck's Speech.

BERLIN, March 25.—Bismarck made an important speech in the upper house of the Prussian parliament yesterday, on the Catholic question. He said, among other things, that peace with the pope was as important as with any other to sign power. He advocated the repeal of the May laws, as provided for in the new ecclesiastical bill.

How is This?

PARIS, March 25.—It is semi-officially denied that Russia has made overtures for an alliance with France. The experiments made by the government with the self-steering torpedo at Toulon have resulted in a failure.

M. Herold Dismissed.

PARIS, March 25.—M. Herold, an official of the war office, has been dismissed. He is suspected of having supplied important secrets with regard to the doings of the war office to foreigners.

Seventy Miners Killed.

LONDON, March 25.—An explosion, by which seventy miners were killed, occurred yesterday in the Bulli colliery, Sydney, in the south of Wales.

SCALDED TO DEATH.

A Brutal Husband Meets a Horrible Death at the Hands of His Wife.

NEWARK, O., March 25.—This community is all agitated and in a great state of excitement over another killing case. This time it is a family row, which results in the death of a husband at the hands of his wife. For years the domestic relations of Jacob Broad and his wife have not been of the most pleasant character, and quarrels have been frequent between them. Recently she filed suit for divorce, charging cruelty. They soon made up and lived together again.

The old quarrels were soon renewed, and the war between them became fierce. The parties reside in the west end, about one and one-half miles from the square. Sunday night the husband and wife engaged in a general row. She refused to submit longer to his abusive treatment, and defended herself. During the fight she seized a pan of boiling water from the stove and dashed the contents in the brutal husband's face. This compelled a halt. He suffered the most intense agony, and his injuries were pronounced serious. Last night, after suffering terrible agony for two days, he died from the injuries inflicted.

The wife, during the suffering of the man, refused, it is stated, to allow any one to visit the house, driving each one away as they approached, and it is claimed took a malicious delight in so doing. Her remorse seems to have overtaken her since his death, and it was found necessary to overpower her and lock her in a room. It is stated that she is now a raving maniac, finding that the quarrel has resulted in a murder. She has not been arrested, and just what course will be pursued by the officers of the law is not known.

CHICAGO, March 25.—A gambling party at 1831 Clark street broke up in a bloody row early this morning. The gathering was mixed as to sex and color. Fleming Williams and Jim Stewart are colored. Charles Taylor and John Kearns are white; so are Lizzie Robinson and Emma Stewart. They were playing in the basement. All have police records. A quarrel started between two colored men. Stewart drew an eight-inch knife and gave Williams nine cuts, any one of which might have alone proved fatal. Among the details of his vivisection are a stab in the left breast, a slash across the face, a scalp wound, the left shoulder cut, the abdomen perforated, the right hand almost severed, and a slash across the right breast. Kearns was also cut by Stewart, accidentally, it is thought. All the participants were arrested except Williams. The place looks like a butcher shop.

Adding to the Grant Monument Fund.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The word contest instituted by the Judge in behalf of the Grant monument fund has just closed, and a check for $1,000 has just been sent to the monument committee. The winners of the prizes offered by Judge are M. E. Lytle, of Brooklyn, Miss H. A. Andrews, of this city, H. W. Wilson, of Indiana, Pa., Mrs. E. R. Andrews, of this city, and Charles T. Burton, of Charleston, Ill., each of whom receives $100, and Dr. A. E. Beach, of Brooklyn, Mrs. A. R. Rosser, of Buffalo, and Alfred A. Post, of Malapopolis, Mass., who receive $40, $35 and $25 respectively. The Judge has started a new and even more novel contest for the same purpose.

Husband Dies During His Wife's Funeral.

DECATUR, Ill., March 25.—There was a sensational stoppage to a funeral here yesterday afternoon. Mrs. C. E. Houck died on Monday, aged seventy-seven. Larkin Houck, aged ninety years, was her husband. He was in feeble health. While the pallbearers were bearing the remains of the wife to the house to be taken to the church, the husband was too feeble to leave the house, and died in his bed. The unexpected episode created general commotion. It was arranged to hold both funerals together on Friday.

Reward for a Legislator's Assassination.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 25.—In the special session of the house this afternoon Judge Messick, of East St. Louis, introduced a joint resolution authorizing the governor to offer a reward of $2,000 for the apprehension and arrest of the unknown person who attempted the assassination of Representative Bailey on Tuesday evening. The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Fastest Steamer About Projected.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The Inman and International Steamship company, limited, owning the Inman line of steamers, has contracted with Laird Brothers, of Birkenhead, for a trans-Atlantic steamship, which will be the fastest one afloat, and only superior to the Great Eastern in size. The construction of this ship will be followed by others and of important improvements in ships of the Inman line service.

Pearls Before Swine.

There is a genuine case of pearls before swine at Merced, Cal. At that point the San Joaquin river is very low, and in many places the river bed and the bottom of the large sloughs are covered with fresh water mussels. Pearls of fair color are sometimes found in these bivalves. At present droves of hogs are eating the mussels, pearls and all. The pork of the pearl fed swine is not at all palatable. —Kansas City Times.

Italian astronomers place the age of the world at not less than 80,000,000 years, and are agreed that it has been peopled for about 50,000,000 years.

FRIDAY EVENING, MARCH 25, 1887.

The Government expended $100,000 in damming the Kentucky River at Beattyville, and now its removal is demanded. The lumbermen are damming the dam.

It is intimated that Colonel Berry, candidate for Governor, is fishing for a nomination from the United Labor Party. With four tickets in the field the fight would prove interesting all around.

CANTER HARRISON has accepted the Democratic nomination for Mayor of Chicago, notwithstanding that he fears some "terrible trouble" will overtake the "windy city" in the next few years.

The Kentucky Democrat wants "fault-finders" to name some other State that has made as good a showing in the past year as Kentucky. The State is giving good evidence that the "rats" are not troubling her much.

At Hillsboro, Ohio, a company has been organized to bore for natural gas. It takes but $2,500 or $3,000 to sink the well, and no trouble was had in raising the money. Why should there be any trouble to raise that sum here?

COMPETING gas companies at Cincinnati are among the probabilities of the near future. The Tele-Ram hasn't given up its fight against Hickenlooper and his associates, and is more determined than ever that the people of the Queen City shall have cheap gas.

It should be remembered that April 2nd will be "Arbor Day" in accordance with a proclamation of the Governor. The purpose in establishing Arbor Day is that trees may be planted, "for ornament, protection and shade in school grounds, parks, groves and other places." "A most commendable purpose," says an exchange, "and the day ought to be heartily and generally observed."

Not long ago, Bowser & Co. brought suit at Louisville against the Sinking Fund Commissioners for the recovery of money collected as license on coal-carts, which they used in carrying on their business. Judge Edwards has ruled "that vehicles employed by citizens in the operation of their business are not subject to this tax." The Sinking Fund will not take an appeal, and the matter is now in the hands of the Commissioners of Chancery. The decision will result in the withdrawal of about $100,000 from the Sinking Fund.

In the County Clerk's office at Vanceburg there have been recorded in the past few days two mortgages from the Southern Natural Gas and Oil Company, upon the gas and oil rights of 200,323 acres of land in West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Ohio, to the American Loan and Trust Company, of New York. The first is to secure $1,000,000 in gold-bearing bonds at 6 per cent. interest, and the second to secure $4,000,000 in currency bonds at 6 per cent. interest. They are very lengthy documents, occupying 35 pages of the large mortgage book. A large portion of the land in question is situated in Lewis County, and 11,500 acres of it is in Greenup. The leases were taken several weeks ago, and it is undoubtedly the intention of the company to sink oil and gas wells in the near future. There has been a small flow of gas for years from a well that was sunk for oil at Vanceburg, and it is thought that a big field of gas can be found there by going deeper.

LAGRANGE, KY., is boring for natural gas, with bright prospects for success.

A Terrible Fire.

What a thrill of terror passes over us when we read the record of some fearful devastation by fire, and yet it is a fact that thousands are daily being consumed by the inward fire of fever, caused by consumption of the lungs, which could be subdued by Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery."

At Shelbyville, March 22nd, Rev. E. J. Durbin, the oldest priest in the West, died. He was born near Richmond, Ky., in the year 1800, and ordained in 1822, since when he actively pursued his religious course.

A New Way to Pay Old Debts.

Shakespeare tells how this can be accomplished in one of his immortal plays, but debts to nature must be paid on demand unless days of grace be obtained through the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." It is not a "cure-all" but invaluable for sore throat, bronchitis, asthma, catarrh, consumption, and all diseases of the pulmonary and other organs, caused by scrofula or "bad blood." Scrofulous ulcers, swellings and tumors are cured by its wonderful alternative action. By druggists.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

RECTORVILLE.

Examination of the peach buds in this section shows that they are unharmed.
Elder Henry Mavity, the veteran minister whose labors reach back over half a century, was a visitor at the residence of his son, John, this week.
An infant son of a colored lady residing at Saint Hill's died on last Saturday night and was buried in a private grave yard held in veneration by a family here of long standing, the 25th instant.

There was a horse show at Rectorville last Saturday, in which several stations got the byline ribbon, in the midst of their owners. We would suggest to the boys to take their stock to the corner of Main and Debiest streets at the next exhibition and leave Broadway open to the ladies who want to be out shopping.

On last Monday the Rectorville school had a written examination on the questions furnished by the State Board of Education for the examination of pupils for diplomas in the common school course. There was no reference to text books, as the teacher carefully collected the books and kept them in his possession during the examination. The questions were written on the blackboard and both grades examined on the same questions, as they had never studied many of the subjects embraced in the list. The following is the general average of the pupils examined, J. S. Mavity, teacher:
Intermediate Department—Hattie Glascock 87; Wattle S. Butler, 80; Maggie M. Bradley, 80; Carrie McIntire, 83; May Stubbfield, 80; Leslie McIntire, 73.
Primary Department—Annie Stubbfield, 81; Leone Mavity, 78; Maudie Baumbaker, 49; Darnell Gardner, 52; James Taylor, 43; Chas. Gardner, 46; Orlin Mavity, 53; Alouso Auxler, 58; A. K. Mattingly, 31.

Hurry and Dispatch.

Among the many causes of poor and inefficient work is the habit of hurry which takes possession of some busy people. Having, or imagining they have, more to do in a given time than can be done properly, they grow confused, agitated and nervous; and under this pressure they proceed with the work in hard without requisite deliberation and care, perhaps omitting parts and producing at last an imperfect and inferior performance which can neither be permanent nor satisfactory. There is hardly any employment, from the simplest manual work to the most complex and difficult manual labor, that does not suffer from this cause. The dwelling house in process of building is to be finished at a certain time. With proper forethought and system it would have been done, but the time approaches and the work is still incomplete. The future occupants are impatient, the contractor is anxious, the workmen are driven; the work is hurried through and annoyance, discomfort, and sometimes danger ensue and repairs are soon found necessary.

The business man undertakes more than he can manage, the days are not long enough for his needs, he is agitated by the constant pressure, driven by conflicting claims, his business suffers for the want of a clear and cool head, his health suffers from continual and unrelaxed exertion, his family suffers from his deterioration, and general disaster ensues. The physician, with many other calls to make, hurries through the visit, neglecting some important symptom, and the patient dies; the lawyer hurries through his plea and loses his case; the preacher hurries through the preparation of his sermon and fails to make an impression; the artist hurries on his picture to completion and his best conception is not there; the teacher hurries through a prescribed course of instruction and the class is left destitute of the more important elements of knowledge. It is not too much to say that a large proportion of the unhappiness, the ignorance, the loss of property, and even the loss of life that is endured in the world is to be directly traced to the hurry and drive which characterizes so much of the labor performed.—Public Opinion.

Topics of Interest Tensely Discussed by Our Queen City Correspondent.

"Booms"—"Pewter Plates"—Natural Gas—Personals.

[Special Correspondence of the BULLETIN.]

CINCINNATI, March 22, 1887.
Said a citizen of Augusta, Ky., to us a few days ago: "At last it appears that we are to be given a chance to give our little town a sort of boom." Some of our leading men are considering the propriety of buying a tract of land and offering it, free of taxes, for a term of ten years, to the management of the new railroad to induce them to locate machine shops at Augusta.

"Can you succeed, do you think?"
"That I can not say; but we can make an effort in that direction, and if we can not get the machine shops, we will try for some other manufacturing establishment. Springfield, Canton, Hamilton, and a number of other cities throughout Ohio, owe their present prosperity to the liberality of their citizens, in donations of building sites, stock subscriptions, etc. Yes, sir; we are going to make an effort, even though we fail."

Those interested in the improvement of Maysville will find out that some of her neighboring towns will be just a little too "soon" for them, if they do not get to work and find out just what inducements they can offer to manufacturers to locate in Maysville. The proposed manufacturing association is a step in the right direction, but it must get possession of good sites and be in a position to say to parties seeking a location, "Come here and locate, and we will donate all land necessary for your work and business."

The next step is to have Maysville well "written up" in a first-class newspaper, that the business men of the country have confidence in. Canton, Ohio, secured the Deuber Watch Case Works by spending a couple of hundred dollars in this way. What Canton gains by this can be seen by the fact that this company employs a large number of persons, distributing thousands of dollars each week among her merchants.

On the subject of "pewter plates" at the last session of the International Typographical Union, held in Pittsburg, the following resolution was introduced and adopted:

"Resolved, That the International Typographical Union discontinue any action by subordinate unions having in view the abolishment of plate-reading matter; providing that the composition on such plate matter is done by union compositors."

This resolution was introduced and adopted solely for the benefit of small country towns and cities that could not publish a daily paper in any other way. So the readers of the BULLETIN will see that by its using "pewter plates," it is doing so in accordance with a resolution adopted by the highest authority on the subject.

Colonel A. S. Berry, of Newport, has entered the race for the nomination for Governor in earnest, and has been in the southwestern part of Kentucky during the past week making speeches. On his speech at the Enquirer says: "Colonel Berry was not long in stirring his hearers up in an old-time way. He caught the crowd. Our people have been accustomed to stirring speeches from orators, and Berry did not disappoint them." As a "jack-leg lawyer," Colonel Berry has succeeded in making himself quite popular with the working men of the State, and especially the miners. As a testimonial of the esteem in which he is held by the working men of Louisville, he was invited to, and made the chief address at the largest gathering of the Trades Unions and K. of L. ever held in that city, during the eight-hour agitation last summer.

Considerable interest is manifested in the election to be held in this city in April, as the united labor party have placed a full ticket in the field, rendering the result extremely doubtful. They will undoubtedly poll a large vote. But one thing is certain, we will have an honest expression of sentiments of the people, as the new election laws make frauds an impossibility by either party, however much they may desire to commit them. Another thing that will not appear in the canvass this time is the liquor question, as the Dow law has settled that matter to the satisfaction of the respectable element engaged in the saloon business. The only ones dissatisfied with the law are the ones who run the low doggeries and thieves' dens, and the "bummer" element.

One thing in connection with the frauds committed at elections in this city during the past ten years is, that they were committed by the "mongrels" and thieves of both parties, (men with money), who had some scheme of robbery or jobbing on hand, and commenced by electing men of their own stripe, whom they could command, to do their bidding.

The Louisville Courier-Journal has been silent as to a choice between the candidates for Governor of Kentucky. Yet they manage to get in an occasional "special" telegram, as to how the "kurnels" looked to call on General Simon Bolivar Buckner, on his visit to this or that place. Just at this time, it would be interesting to know just how much the C. J. gets annually out of the State Printer, as it said most of the State work is done in the C. J.'s job rooms.

Natural gas is one of the most important factors in locating iron works and glass factories to change their location. Findlay and Lima, O., are examples of what the effect of striking a good vein near Maysville would be to her. In each of the above-named places gas and oil has been struck, property has advanced 100 per cent, and the increase in population has been just as great. By referring to a map, it will be seen that Maysville, while lying considerably south of the belt upon which Pittsburg, Lima and Findlay are located, yet she is north of the belt of Wellsburg, W. Va., and Martin County, Ky. Major S. W. Ely, of the Commercial Gazette, found oil in Lewis County several years ago at a depth of a few hundred feet, and says he is confident gas can be had by going deeper.

THE ladies of the German Mite Society were entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. John Combeis, at the latter's residence on Commerce street. It was the third anniversary of the society, and the event was celebrated in an appropriate manner. Lunch was served at 4 o'clock, and the occasion was a pleasant one to the many who were there.

THE hop given by the young men last evening was the event in social circles this week. The large and commodious room adjoining Shackelford's drug store, in the Cox Building, had been fitted up for the occasion, and afforded an excellent hall in which "lovely women and handsome beaux" tripped the light fantastic to their heart's content, to music furnished by the Maysville orchestra. A large crowd was present, including a number of guests from neighboring cities. The costumes were elegant. The evening passed pleasantly and was an enjoyable one throughout.

Mrs. Mart Acklin, of Toledo, Ohio, is here visiting friends and relatives.

W. Scott Riffe, of the drug firm of Riffe & Henderson, came up from Covington last night.

Mrs. Hawthorne Hill left this morning to spend several days with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. N. J. Sawyer, at Frankfort.

Small Blaze at Cotton Mills.

The alarm of fire shortly before 9 o'clock this morning was caused by a small blaze in what is known as the "Lapper Room" at the Maysville Cotton Mills. The supposition is that a small piece of metal of some kind passed through one of the rollers, and struck fire. The floor was covered with loose raw cotton, and in almost an instant this was all ablaze. By means of a convenient arrangement put in some months ago, the room was soon filled with steam and the floor flooded with water, which extinguished the flames before the fire department could get to work. The damage, which is fully covered by insurance, is estimated at about $200, and is principally to the raw cotton, and caused by the water.

Brace Up.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with headache, you are fidgety, nervous and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alternative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of liver and kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at the drug stores of J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co. of Aberdeen Ohio.

TO LADIES

—WHO—

WEAR FINE SHOES:

We have received a line of French Kid Hand-made Button which is superior to any ever sold by us before. The material is strictly first-class and selected with great care. They fit as perfectly as a kid glove. They require no breaking in, but are as comfortable when first worn as an old shoe. To ladies who have tender feet and who have had difficulty in securing a neat-fitting shoe, we can recommend these as being especially desirable.
